

POLITICAL CRISIS IN GERMANY OVER ALSACE TROUBLE

Kaiser Taking Leading Part in Affairs, and His Chancellor
May Resign.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—The strife between the military authorities and the civilians in the little garrison town of Zabern, Alsace, brought about overnight a political crisis of the most serious order in Germany and demands for the resignation of the Imperial Chancellor were voiced by the Tageblatt, the Frankfort Gazette and other radical newspapers.

"CASCARETS" IF CONSTIPATED, SICK, HEADACHY, BILIOUS—DIME A BOX

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night with Cascarets.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets sweeten and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you feel great.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel bully and cheerful for months. Don't forget the children.

A vote of non-confidence in the Government in connection with its attitude in regard to the troubles was adopted in the Imperial Parliament today by 235 against 54. One blank paper was handed in, while forty-nine members were not present.

The unrelenting nature of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's explanations yesterday in Parliament and the brusqueness of Major-General von Falkenhayn, Minister of War, not only ensured the passage of the resolution expressing non-confidence in the Government, which was laid on the table yesterday, but have made possible a refusal by Parliament to proceed with the discussion of the budget until it receives satisfactory guarantees that there will be no repetition of such incidents as those which have occurred at Zabern, where the high-handed action of the German army officers has created serious trouble.

The Imperial Chancellor, aware that even his own supporters were blaming him for the absence of any definite declaration as to how he was going to deal with the authors of the incidents, appeared in Parliament at the opening of today's session to try and make good for his yesterday's conclusions.

He declared that Emperor William had expressed extreme displeasure over the occurrences and had given the general in command at Zabern strict orders that such violations of the law as the clearing of the streets by the military and the arrest by them of civilians should not be repeated.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg denied the existence of a secret letter government in Alsace which overruled the decisions of the recognized authorities as had been reported and said he must reserve instantly if such a thing were true.

The present moment was a serious one, the Chancellor said, not because of the possibility of his resignation but because of the chance that the Zabern incidents and the debates in Parliament might lead to a permanent breach between the army and the people. He and the Emperor were in thorough accord in the belief that a policy must be adopted which would heal this strife.

The Imperial Chancellor appeared to be thoroughly angry and snapped out his phrases in a sharp voice, showing evident signs of nervousness.

The Emperor has apparently realized that the time has come for him to interfere personally with the full weight of his authority in order to put an end to the differences between the civil and military authorities of Alsace. His Majesty today summoned the Governor-General of Alsace-Lorraine, Count Charles von Nostitz, and the commanding general, Lieut.-Gen. Berthold von Heimlich, to report to him at Donaueschingen.

Since the Emperor gave orders to avoid any further conflicts there has been no disorder at Zabern. The civilian inhabitants, however, show resentment at the recent incidents and propose to withdraw the appropriation of $250,000 which they voted this summer for the construction of new barracks and drill grounds.

The Imperial Chancellor leaves the capital tonight to make a personal report on the Zabern incidents to the Emperor at Donaueschingen.

FEAR FOR RUNAWAY GIRL.

Friends Think White Slavers May Have Aided Her Escape.

Abraham Lipsky, a teacher of German, living No. 1001 Fille street, the Bronx, asked the police at Morristown station this morning to send out a general alarm for fifteen-year-old Idella Stroz, who disappeared from her home this morning at 2:30 o'clock. He fears white slavers.

Five weeks ago, he told the police, he and his wife took the girl from the State Home for Girls at Trenton, N. J., to educate her and have her act as maid of all work. She was allowed to go to school in the morning and she did housework each afternoon.

Two weeks ago he learned that Idella was playing truant from school and occupying her time at moving picture shows in the neighborhood, where she made friends with several men. As she had no money he could not understand how she got into theatres nor would she tell him why she played truant.

Last night, he says, he gave her a final warning that he could no longer tolerate her conduct and told her that if a reform was not effected she would be returned to the home. At 2:30 o'clock this morning, he told the police, he heard the front door close and upon investigation found the girl had packed a small bundle and left the house. She had no money and he fears that her new men acquaintances might have persuaded her to accompany them.

Why He Likes Them.
(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
"How does your Willie get along with the children next door?"
"Just splendid. He can lick all three of them."
